

Meridian's mega-tuner

Meridian has developed a State of the Art tuner in response to demands from its dealers and owners of its 600 Series kit.

Special design elements of the Meridian 604 tuner include optical isolation of the radio section from the rest of the audio system to give improved RF performance; and use of a four layer printed circuit board, technology borrowed from Meridian's latest CD player.

For Series 600 compatibility 604 is fitted with an onboard Delta Sigma A/D converter.

A variety of display options can be selected, including 12 station names, as can up to 30 presets. Optional operational modes include favourite preset recall and seek or step tuning.

The tuner is sold with an optional remote control handset. Alternatively, it can be used with a Meridian system remote.

Retail price is £1350.
