MERIDIAN ANNOUNCE THE NEW INTERACTIVE LOUDSPEAKER STAND

Following careful study of real factors affecting loudspeaker performance Meridian announce a significant new product which can provide improved performance for both existing owners of the Meridian M2 and M3 Interactive Loudspeakers and all future customers.

Study of mass effects relating to our Interactive Loudspeakers has indicated that a higher mass and more rigid link between the cabinet and most ground levels can show significant improvements in performance. The new stands will attach to the existing 3 point (M2) or 2 point (M3) threaded inserts in the cabinets. They are constructed from seamless steel tube damped with a tough hot dip coating in Black Thermoplastic. Each pair of stands is available in a flat pack for simple assembly including instructions and fitting tools.

The new stands are dimensionally almost identical with the previous stands and are available as before in two different heights for M3 and M2. Only satin Black finish is available.
